Proverbs 16:3

Commit your works to the LORD and your plans will be established

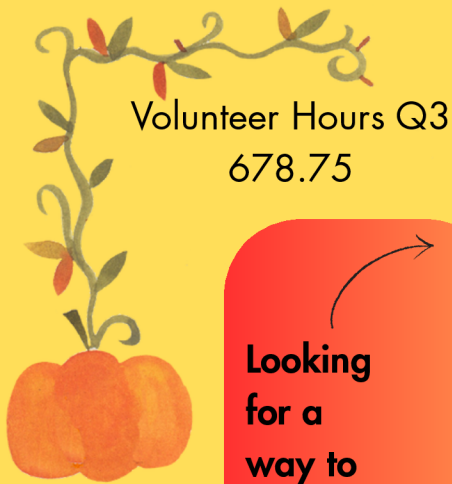

Founder's Hot Minute

I find myself making plans then asking God to bless those plans. Do you do that? Especially when we're filled with passion in the journey that He has put us on, only to find ourselves sputtering in place working hard to accomplish something important for the Lord. He's been working on me in this area. Learning to wait and listen for His voice is hard when you're a doer. When our plans become His plans, they come to pass.

The Reentry Simulation is a structured, experiential event that offers participants the opportunity to experience the real-life challenges faced by individuals reentering society after incarceration. The purpose of the simulation is to foster a deeper understanding of the barriers and systemic obstacles that returning citizens encounter when attempting to access essential services such as employment, housing, identification, transportation, and supervision compliance.
